SHARP CONTEST IN THE SENATE

Expected Over Bailey's Income Tax Amendment.

VOTE WILL BE VERY CLOSE

Proposition to Refer Amendment to Tariff Bill to the Judiciary Committee Will Be Opposed by the Democrats and the Progressive Republicans, Who Have Formed a Coalition in the Senate.

Washington, May 19.—That there will be a sharp contest in the senate over the proposition to refer to the judiciary committee the amendment to the tariff bill introduced by Senator Bailey providing for an income tax, is indicated by a coalition of the Democrats and some of the progressive Republicans, which has just become known.

Unquestionably the vote will be close, probably the closest that will occur in making the tariff bill.

The Democratic strength in the senate is thirty-one votes, all of which are pledged to support the amendment. Mr. Bailey is counting upon from sixteen or seventeen Republican votes to secure the adoption of the amendment, and it is said that some of the progressives have assured him that they can deliver that many. Fifteen would be sufficient if the Democrats voted solidly for the amendment.

On the other hand, conservative Republicans in charge of the tariff bill say they have made some inroads upon the progressive Republican camp and that upon the question of referring the whole subject of an income tax to the judiciary committee for a report at the next regular session they already have forty-five votes pledged and express confidence of success.

Until the understanding just announced, the Democrats and progressive Republicans were far apart over the form of the bill to be supported. Senators Cummins and Borah, chief advocates among the latter for an income tax amendment, were in favor of a graduated tax according to the size of the incomes and were opposed to a tax on corporations. By surrendering these contentions in order to get a vote it was said that an agreement would be reached upon the principal features of the Bailey amendment. The plan is to provide for a flat tax of 2 or 3 per cent upon incomes above $5,000 and upon incomes of corporations above the figures named. That there shall be no double taxation of individuals, provision will be made for deductions where the tax upon corporations' stock has been paid through the corporation itself.

TO COMMITTEE ON FINANCE

Senate Refers Gore Resolution for Investigation of Prices.

Washington, May 19.—After devoting the greater part of the day's session to debate, the senate passed upon a number of important committee amendments to the tariff bill. It also disposed adversely of an amendment by Mr. Stone restoring the Dingley rates on razors. On that vote most of the progressive Republicans voted in the affirmative with the Democrats.

More than two hours were devoted to a discussion of a resolution by Senator Gore to investigate the cost of production at home and abroad and the relative price of commodities at wholesale and retail. The resolution was referred to the committee on finance by a decisive vote.

Much progress was made in the adoption of several sections of the tariff bill that formerly had been passed over. There were several amendments decreasing duties formerly reported by the committee, but some others adopted increased duties.

CONFIRMED BY THE SENATE

Nomination of C. A. Willard to Be Federal Judge in Minnesota.

Washington, May 19.—The nomination of Judge C. A. Willard of Minneapolis, lately in the Philippines as a jurist, to be United States judge in Minnesota, has been confirmed by the senate.

This is a life appointment and ends a controversy that has involved the federal judgeship in Minnesota for over two years, because Senator Knute Nelson would not permit the confirmation of Judge Milton D. Purdy, who was appointed by former President Roosevelt over the senator's opposition.

TO GO ON VAUDEVILLE STAGE

Mrs. William E. Annis Has Signed a Contract.

New York, May 19.—That stage of the sensational murder trial which has become familiar—the vaudeville stage—was reached in the Hains-Annis tragedy when announcement was made that Mrs. William E. Annis, wife of the man for whose death Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., began serving a

MRS. WILLIAM E. ANNIS.

Sing Sing sentence Tuesday morning, had signed a contract with the United Booking offices to play piano accompaniments in a sketch.

Mrs. Annis is quoted as saying that since she had been thrown on her own resources it was necessary for her to adopt some means of livelihood.

TAFT STARTS ON SOUTHERN TRIP

First Journey South Since His Inauguration.

Washington, May 19.—President Taft, aboard the private car Olympia, has begun his first trip into the South since his inauguration. The car was attached to the regular morning train over the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad, which left Washington at 4:20 a. m.

Arriving about 8 o'clock, the president breakfasted aboard the train and was ready for the reception committee when Petersburg, Va., was reached.

The president will return to Washington Friday morning.

He will attend the unveiling at Fort Mahone, near Petersburg, of a monument erected to the memory of Pennsylvania soldiers and will deliver an address.

Tonight the presidential party will continue on to Charlotte, N. C., where they will attend the Mecklenburg celebration on Thursday.

Mrs. Taft, who is unable to accompany the president on his Southern trip because of a nervous breakdown, was resting comfortably and was steadily recuperating. It was announced at the White House just before the president's departure.

Charlie Taft, the president's youngest son, who underwent an operation on his throat Monday, also was reported to be improving.

KILLED BRIDE AND HIMSELF

Oregon Man Did Not Want Her to Leave Him.

Portland, Ore., May 19.—That L. H. Worley killed his bride of four days and himself was asserted by the police after reading a letter left by Worley.

The bodies of Worley and his wife, who was Miss Ruth Leroy of Lincoln, Neb., were found on Worley's farm near Redmond. They were married last Wednesday. On Friday and Saturday the house was closed. It was burned on Saturday. Worley's letter follows:

"This is all a mistake. Ruth said this morning she did not want to live with me. She asked me how far it was to Shaniko and this morning said she was going to Shaniko to earn a living and go back East again. I treated her as good as I could and then she robbed me of all the money I had and was going to leave me. I could not stand it any longer so think we both are better dead."

The tragedy was discovered by two women who went to the Worley farm to deliver a wedding present.

SPRECKELS ON WITNESS STAND

Millionaire Testifies in Trial of Patrick Calhoun.

FEW OBJECTIONS BY HENEY

Assistant District Attorney Allows Wide Scope in Cross-Examination of the Man Who Financed the Graft Prosecution in San Francisco.
Spreckels Disclaims Motives Imputed to Him by Defense.

San Francisco, May 19.—Rudolph Spreckels, millionaire, whose name has been blazed into the record of every day's proceedings since the trial of Patrick Calhoun commenced more than five months ago, had his inning in court here.

Through a cross-examination replete with stinging inferences and insinuations, he sat absolutely undisturbed, disclosing the innermost secrets of the graft prosecution, reciting the substantial payments he has made to its officers and agents and disclaiming utterly motives imputed to him by Attorney Earl Rogers for the defense.

The bitter altercations that have always followed the injection of Mr. Spreckels into the trial had prepared a crowded courtroom for a succession of angry disputes, but the examination was practically concluded with only a few brief exchanges. Assistant District Attorney Heney, who had promised to permit the widest possible scope in cross-examination, offered scarcely a dozen objections throughout the day and the inquiry developed into a duel of wits between the witness and his questioner.

Many times Mr. Spreckels took exception to a statement included in one of Mr. Rogers' questions and flatly declared that the utterance was untrue.

Late in the day Mr. Spreckels was excused with the understanding that he will produce in court his personal account of the many thousands of dollars he admitted he had expended in behalf of the graft prosecution.

The total, Mr. Spreckels said he was unable to remember, but he admitted that he had paid the rent and expenses of Mr. Heney's private law office for a long time and that these sums amounted to between $500 and $800 a month. It was likewise admitted that Mr. Spreckels had for a long time paid a considerable sum to Charles W. Cobb, Mr. Heney's partner, and in pursuance of an agreement made at the outset of the prosecution, it was disclosed, Mr. Spreckels is to pay Mr. Cobb $20,000 more.

The witness said he had requested District Attorney Langdon to appoint Mr. Heney a member of his staff after he had obtained from the prosecutor an agreement to accept.

KEPT SOME OF THE MONEY

Game Warden Did Not Turn It All Over to Davidson's Fund.

Madison, Wis., May 19.—Chief Game Warden J. W. Stone admitted to the senatorial investigating committee that he collected in all $1,425 for Governor Davidson's campaign fund; that he still had $225 of the amount in his possession, having turned over only $1,200. Mr. Stone said he would return every dollar of the balance to the game wardens.

Replying to questions, Stone said that everything pertaining to campaign funds was kept within the department; that Governor Davidson did not know of the deal with State Chairman Edmonds.

Witness stated that Deputy Warden H. A. Bowman had at one time in his possession $475 which he collected for the governor's campaign fund and that he (Bowman) proposed the collection of more from the wardens and to divide between himself and Stone.

Denied Change of Venue.

Kansas City, Mo., May 19.—James and Melissa Sharp, known as "Adam and Eve God," on trial here for the murder of two policemen and a bystander during a religious riot Dec. 8, last, were denied a change of venue. Frequently in the hearing "Adam God" tapped a Bible and told passages in it upon which he depended for his salvation.

Strike Losing Ground.

Honolulu, May 19.—The strike of the Japanese plantation laborers is apparently losing ground. More strike-breakers than could be used at the plantations offered themselves, and employers have decided to order strikers either to return to work or to leave the Honolulu and Oahu plantations.

FORWARDED TO WASHINGTON

Charges Against District Attorney Gregg of Oklahoma.

Tulsa, Okla., May 19.—Charges against District Attorney Gregg, made by the defense in the Muskogee town lot fraud cases, were forwarded to the department of justice at Washington on the suggestion of Judge Marshall, who is hearing the trial.

Judge Marshall refused to act on the petition of the defense asking that Gregg be prevented from trying the case. The petition alleged that improper influences had been brought to bear on the grand jury, which was dismissed last Saturday as the result of charges made by Mr. Gregg. The court assigned the following reasons for his refusal to act:

Gregg's charges against the discharged jury he regarded as vague and indefinite.

That the court had paid no attention to the charges in Gregg's motion, but had discharged the grand jury because of the right of the government to change a grand jury when it so desired.

That charges against Gregg should be filed with the department at Washington, from where he was appointed.

The court did not comment upon the petition of the discharged grand jurors.

FATAL WOUNDS HIS WIFE

French Miner Then Kills His Brother-in-Law and Himself.

Shelburne, Ind., May 19.—Frank Doggemant, a French miner, shot his wife, wounding her perhaps fatally, killed his brother-in-law, Zillele Decobet, and committed suicide. The woman, it is said, had refused to live with Doggemant.

FATAL POWDER EXPLOSION

Youth Killed and His Father and Another Man Injured.

Linton, Ind., May 19.—Guy Elliston, sixteen years old, was killed, and his father, Daniel Elliston, was seriously burned in a powder explosion at the Little Giant Mine near here. Frank Gulester, a miner, was perhaps fatally wounded. Sparks from Gulester's torch exploded a keg of powder. The explosion set off another keg in the room in which Elliston and his son were working. Guy Elliston was burned to death. His father's injuries were due to attempts to extinguish the boy's burning clothing.

Aeroplane Comes to Grief.

New York, May 19.—A New York aeroplane, Wilbur R. Kimball, who has been trying out his eight-propeller machine in the suburbs, came to grief when his craft ran into a wall at the side of the track, smashing the front mechanism so badly that further experiments will be impossible for some time. Mr. Kimball was not hurt.

Oil Plant Burned.

Memphis, Tenn., May 19.—The plant of the Memphis Cottonseed Oil company, one of the largest in the South, has been destroyed by fire, involving a loss of nearly $200,000, including the machinery and stock. A large amount of oil in tanks in the building was saved.

Governor Hughes' Son Ill.

Providence, R. I., May 19.—Charles E. Hughes, Jr., son of Governor Hughes of New York, and a senior at Brown university, was taken to the Rhode Island hospital suffering from a severe attack of cerebro spinal meningitis. Overstudy is supposed to have been the cause.

MADE ANOTHER BREAK FOR COVER

Result of Action by Bears Is Rise in Wheat Prices.

Chicago, May 19.—With the day rapidly approaching when they must either deliver wheat on their May contracts to James A. Patten or go into the pit and bid the price up in order to cover their shortages, the frantic bears made another break for cover.

The result—May wheat touched the high mark of the present great bull campaign engineered by Patten. It went to $1.30, or 5 cents a bushel higher than Patten predicted it would go when he began practically to corner all of the May wheat in the country.

MAKING AMPLE ATONEMENT

British Public and Press Mourn Loss of George Meredith.

London, May 19.—The British public and press are making ample atonement on the death of the foremost English novelist for any neglect he suffered during his lifetime. Not even the death of Swinburne called out such universal warm tributes of admiration and affection as that of George Meredith.

The novelist was conscious practically until the end and knew that the end was approaching.

According to an interview, his daughter, Mrs. Sturgis, said that so far as she knows, her father left no instructions with regard to the disposition of his body, but he had often expressed a wish to be cremated. His end, she said, was quite peaceful and due entirely to his advanced age, but was hastened by a cold which he contracted a few days ago.

USED MAILS TO DEFRAUD

Mining Promoter Found Guilty at Kansas City, Mo.

Kansas City, Mo., May 19.—A jury in the federal court found E. S. Horn, Frank H. Horn, John E. Horn, Raymond P. May and F. H. Snider guilty of using the mails to defraud in promoting the Central Mining and Development company of the "Two Queens" group of gold mines in Arizona.

The penalty is a fine of $500 or imprisonment for eighteen months or both. Notice was given for a motion for a new trial.

E. S. Horn fainted when the verdict was read.

KETCHEL DEFEATS M'GANN

Middleweight Champion Knocks Opponent Down Six Times.

Pittsburg, May 19.—Six times Hugh McGann was down for the count of nine seconds in his six-round bout with Stanley Ketchel, champion middleweight of the world. Five times in the sixth round he was saved from a knockout by a second. Twice he was knocked through the ropes, once clear across the press table into the seats of spectators. Ketchel apparently toyed with his opponent.

Only the cheering voices of his friends in the audience inspired McGann several times to get up on his feet again after being all but knocked out. For the first three rounds McGann fought hard and landed several times on the champion, but he apparently exhausted himself in the early rounds and could not face the powerful blows of his antagonist after the first half of the bout. No decision was permissible under the Pennsylvania laws.

Never before has so large an audience witnessed a boxing bout in Pittsburg. Six thousand persons crowded Duquesne gardens, among them being men prominent in financial, political and business circles.

KILLS SISTER AND HIMSELF

South Dakota Man Commits Double Crime.

Mitchell, S. D., May 19.—Tragedy somber and spectacular was enacted here when, with the officers of the law just about to cross the threshold of his home to arrest him, W. C. Gray, a long time resident of this city, seized his sister, Edith Gray, suspended her from a rafter in the attic and fired a shot from his gun into her brain, killing her instantly, and then turned the weapon upon himself and ended his own life.

SEVEN PERSONS OVERCOME

Dragged Unconscious From a Burning Building.

New York, May 19.—Seven persons, five of them firemen, were dragged unconscious from the upper stories of the building at Third avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, Harlem, overcome by smoke from burning stocks of clothing and manufacturing materials which filled the lower floors. Several rescues were accomplished with great difficulty. No lives were lost. The fire caused a loss of $150,000.

The inheritance tax on the estate of Hon. Albert L. Cole was adjusted Thursday. The estate in Minnesota amounted to $28,720 and all of it is bequeathed to Mrs. Cole. The inheritance tax law exempted $10,000, and imposes a tax of 1 1/2 per cent on property above this amount, so that the tax in this case is paid on $18,720. The tax amounts to $284.—Fergus Falls Journal.

TEA WITH FASHIONS.

Novel Entertainment Introduced by the British Premier's Wife.

Mrs. Asquith, wife of the premier of England, recently gave a novel party at the premier's official residence, the historic 10 Downing street, in London. The invitations read, "For tea and Paris fashions."

A small coterie of the hostess' friends, including the American Count-esses of Craven and Essex, applauded
Mrs. Asquith's novel entertainment.
The hostess had brought from Paris
M. Poiret, the famous dressmaker, with three of Poiret's most beautiful models, and while the ladies sipped their tea the models paced before them wearing the latest soulful gowns.
Poiret is not a mere man modiste.
He calls himself the Aubrey, Beardsley of dressmaking. His gowns are as revolutionary as the works of the pre-Raphaelite painters, whose costumes he copies in silks and satins.

To Mrs. Asquith's guests the two hours wherein the beautiful modes displayed the handiwork of Poiret's genius were like an Arabian Nights' entertainment. Their eyes were dazzled by the strange beauty of costumes which were neither directoire nor empire. They were of all periods and all lands, cunningly adapted for London wear. Poiret finds the models for his dresses in the pictures of the old masters. He takes the coloring of Fra Angelico and Botticelli. His inspiration comes from the robes of angels in the stained glass windows of cathedrals. Florence, Egypt, Brittany and Japan are scoured for ideas.

Joe Brown's Georgia Jeans.

Governor Elect Will Be Inaugurated
in Homemade Habillments.

Little Joe Brown, who is soon to succeed Big Hoke Smith as governor of Georgia, has announced that when he is inaugurated he will be garbed in Georgia made clothing.

His underwear and top shirt are to be the products of Georgia cotton factories, and he will wear shoes made by a Georgia manufacturer. His top suit will be made from jeans turned out by a factory at Marietta, the home of the governor elect. This jeans is manufactured from wool clipped from sheep which roam southwest Georgia ranches. The mill which makes the jeans has dubbed it "Joe Brown cashmere," and the cloth is in great demand.

Every weaver in the woolen mill voted for Brown for governor, and extra care has been given to the piece of goods from which his suit is to be made.

The only article not Georgia made that Brown will wear at inauguration will be his hat. Convention requires a one in his life odds are offered that he will stick to the derby.

THE SNIPE'S BILL.

The thrush catches such worms as rashly show themselves above ground, but an ancient ancestor of the snipe found that if it followed them into marshy lands it could probe the soft ground and drag them out of their chambers. For this operation it has now a bill three inches long, straight, thin and sensitive at the tip, a beautiful instrument, but good for no purpose except extracting worms from soft ground. If frost or drought hardens the ground the snipe must starve or travel.—London Strand Magazine.

FOREST ON ROOT'S ESTATE.

Government Service Setting Out 58,200
Trees Six Feet Apart.

An interesting experiment in tree planting is now under way on the estate of Senator Ellihu Root at Clinton, N. Y., under the direct supervision of a representative of the government forestry service. Approximately 58,200 young trees, varying in height from seven to fourteen inches, are being set out in rows six feet apart.

The trees include 16,400 white pine, 15,200 Norway spruce, which were shipped from Germany; 5,200 red pine, 6,000 red oak, 5,200 black locust, 5,000 chestnut and 5,200 basswood. The spruce will be mixed with alternate rows and in four and a half to five acre plots with locust, red oak, pine and basswood. The white pine will be mixed with locust, red oak and red pine. Chestnut and spruce will also be planted together, using two rows of chestnut to each row of spruce.

TO PICTURE SHIPS IN ACTION.

United States Navy to Use Cinematograph on One of Its Tugs.

At the Brooklyn navy yard a moving picture camera placed on a tug will be used to photograph speed trials, gunnery practice and maneuvers for the naval board at Washington.

The machine will be in a nonoscillat-ing room suspended on an axle, so as to remain stationary no matter how badly the tug rolls. The camera will be high enough just abaft the bridge to have an unobstructed view of naval vessels in action. The pictures will enable the board to study the relative merits of the various ships and correct errors in reports of the efficiency of gun crews. Navy men said it would revolutionize the methods of handling ships while attacking under fire.

Now is the most opportune time to realize your ideals

Detecting Erasures.

If paper upon which erasures of writing have been made is exposed to the vapor of iodine the roughened surface takes a different tint from that portion which has not been tampered with. If the erasure has been lightly made, only the ink or pencil lead being rubbed away and the mark left in the fiber of the paper, iodine vapor causes the writing to reappear. This is because wherever the paper has been roughened more iodine is absorbed than by a smooth surface. This test is effective within three months after the making of the alteration.

MESSABA MEN LOOKING THIS WAY

Parties From Virginia Secure Option on Land in Section 15 Daggett Brook

TO PROSPECT THERE AT ONCE

Drill to be Shipped Here Imme- diately and will be Running by June First

That the attention of iron men on the Messaba range is being turned to the new Cuyuna range is becoming more and more apparent every day. Among the latest to invade this section is a party who came down from Virginia Tuesday. They are John Mesberg, Mose Shandling and H. O. Johnson, the latter being a member of the firm of Osterberg and Johnson, drill contractors. These gentlemen have secured an option on a tract in 15-45-30 (the town of Daggett Brook,) and will prospect the same at once. One drill will be shipped here immediately and will be ready for business, it is expected by the first of June. The gentlemen feel confident that they have a good thing and will probably bring in more drills later.

Much land in this county is, quietly changing hands, but in very few instances do the records show the consideration, and it is almost impossible to get accurate information as to the prices paid. Prices on city property are looking up sharply and all indications point to a big advance in real estate prices in Brainerd the coming year. It has been several years since there were as many residences being erected as will be the case this year. The hotels are almost overcrowded with transients and all land offered for sale are quickly picked up, providing the mineral rights are not reserved.

SIXTY FAMILIES HOMELESS

Half of a Pennsylvania Village Destroyed by Fire.

Johnstown, Pa., May 19.—Nearly one-half of the village of Gilestown, a mining settlement of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke company, fourteen miles from here, has been consumed by fire. The loss is estimated at over $60,000.

Three lives are believed to have been lost in the fire and two persons were injured. Sixty families were rendered homeless and lost most of their household effects.

Kettledrum a Perfect Instrument.

The kettledrum, Gabriel Cleather contended, was perfectly competent to produce atmosphere as well as rhythm. Even to tune the instrument three things were required—a perfect musical ear, a fine sense of touch and five years' experience. After playing over a kettledrum melody written eighty years ago from Meyerbeer's "Robert le Diable," Mr. Cleather continued, "I venture to say that outside of the musical profession not one person in a hundred of those who listen to an orchestra in England today knows that timpani have notes and can give out a melody." No instrument, he added, had a greater range of power than the kettledrum, for none could be played more softly and none had greater penetrating power.—London Standard.

TAKING INVENTORY

Officials of Northern Pacific are Tak- ing Annual Account of Material and Track Equipment

Roadmaster T. J. Tyler and C. A. Gunstead, of Duluth, are busy taking inventory of the steel, track material and tools on the second district of the Lake Superior Division of the Northern Pacific railway. They covered the ground between Staples and Brainerd yesterday and commenced working east from here today. They also take account of all material in the various section houses.

The work of ballasting on the track from Central avenue to Pine Grove, west of Carenton, is now going on, the work being done by a gang of dagoes. Five carloads of the heavy steel which is to be laid between Cedar Lake and Staples has already been received, but the rest is slow in coming so that it has so far been impossible for Roadmaster Tyler to commence the work of laying heavier rails. In speaking of the matter of help Mr. Tyler declared that while Italians were less efficient than other railroad help, they were many more times dependable. As soon as haying and harvest opens it is impossible to keep a gang of other laborers. They will hire out so as to get the free transportation and as soon as they get as far as they can in that way they quit, it being nothing unusual for a gang of 100 men to melt away in two or three days. It is thus absolutely impossible to make progress in laying steel, as a good sized crew is essential to work.

OVERTAXED

Hundreds of Brainerd Readers Know What it Means

The kidneys are overtaxed; Have too much to do. They tell about it in many aches and pains—Backache, sideache, headache, Early symptoms of kidney ills. Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

A Brainerd citizen tells here a certain cure.

Chas. Ellison, living at 512 S. Quince St., Brainerd, Minn., says: "My kidneys were in a disordered condition for some years and seemed to be gradually growing worse. About a year ago I was seized with a terrible pain in the small of my back and on this account was forced to stop work. All the medicine I took helped me, so that I was able to go out in a few weeks but the trouble came back at times and I would suffer severely. About eight months ago I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply from H. P. Dunn's drug store. The use of a few boxes of this excellent remedy benefited me in every way and I can again work with ease without disagreeable symptoms of my old complaint. I am confident that Doan's Kidney Pills will act up to their representations in other cases of kidney complaint if taken according to directions."

Old Herbal Charms.

History lurks in many of the old herbal charms, which were once as popular as any magic specific connected with field mice. Cures for the bites of sea hares, scorpions and tarantulas tell a tale of a different England from the one we know now. So do charms "to render a man or woman insensible to torture," though advice to seven-year-old children to grow beautiful by dancing among flax is of all ages. Protective charms against witchcraft were common, but an old French book of spells gives an interesting recipe for centaur, which, "if joined with the blood of a female lapwing," will cause the drinkers "to believe themselves witches, so that one shall believe of the other that his head is in heaven and his feet on earth." If, this was witchcraft, how did Shakespeare and Herrick and a few others escape the stake?—London Chronicle.

Cochran & Hess are Again Doing Business at the Stand the Former has Occupied so Long.

Cochran & Hess last night moved their barber shop back to the room so long occupied by John Cochran and his associates in the basement of the First National Bank building. The room has been fitted with a handsome tile floor, repainted and refinished throughout and the bath rooms rebuilt. The firm has ordered new barber chairs and new shining chair, a new automatic ceiling fan and otherwise put the shop in an up-to-date shape in every particular. They will be glad to have all their old customers and friends and the public in general call and inspect their new quarters. Mr. Cochran has been in the barber business in that room for nearly or quite a quarter of a century and there are few if any better known barbers in Minnesota than John. Geo. Hess, his partner, has made many friends since coming to Brainerd and they have built up a large trade. 1t

The mother of the Saylor twins found them fighting furiously. Willie, the larger twin, was on top. He was beating Tommy about the face and head.

"I had good cause to strike him," Willie said.

"What do you mean?" she asked.

"Why," said Willie, with a righteous air, "didn't I let him use my toys all last Saturday on condition that he'd say my prayers for me every night this week? And here I've just found out that he's skipped three days."

EVENING MONEY ORDER SERVICE

Window Will be Open Pay Day Even- ing and the Evening Following Until Eight O'Clock

In order to accommodate the people who desire to send money orders, Postmaster Ingersoll announces that the money order window at the post office will be kept open until 8 o'clock on the days that the Northern Pacific pays its employees and also on the following evening. This will enable the shop men and employees who are busy during the day to transact their money order business after supper, and if the trial proves that the additional service is appreciated it will be made permanent. People who have money order business to transact and can attend to it as well as not during the day, will be wise to do so, as the business of the evening will undoubtedly be overdone and those who could attend to their wants during the day hours will be subjected to a tiresome wait. The window will be closed promptly at 8 o'clock and will open only on the nights mentioned, but will remain open continuously from 8 in the morning until 8 at night. The additional service has been made for the accommodation of the shop people and those who cannot attend to the business during the day hours and is in conformity with an order from the department which requires that it be done in cases where the public service demands it.

TREED BY A BULL

Alderman Cardle Had an Experience This Forenoon Which He Does Not Wish to Repeat

Alderman Cardle, who accompanied A. G. Keen to Homestead bar this forenoon, had an experience which he says will satisfy him for some time to come. When crossing a field near the river an angry bull made for him. He took to the nearest tree and was compelled to roost there over an hour, while Mr. Keen went about three miles and got a farmer and his gun. A charge of shot dampened his bullship's ardor and after Pete got out of the tree he said he could not resist the temptation of taking a shot at the animal to teach him manners.

PLUMP FOLKS AND THIN FOLKS

Samose Will Make People Fat— "Money Back if it Fails" Says H. P. Dunn & Co.

The line of beauty is a curve. Women may be thin and graceful, but not thin and beautiful. There is a vast number of pale, thin, scrawny people who are all brains and nerves, but without the strength and health that accompanies the standard weight. Good flesh and perfect health go together. A true flesh forming food like Samose is absolutely necessary to some people.

This remarkable discovery comes in tablet form and when taken after meals mingles with the food and helps it to assimilate so that it makes rich blood and pleasing plumpness. No one can use this wonderful flesh-forming food for 10 days without a noticeable gain in flesh and strength. Carefully kept statistics show that out of every hundred people who begin the use of Samose, 98 per cent increase in weight and their health and strenght are restored.

H. P. Dunn has so much confidence in this remarkable flesh-forming food and health restorer that he is willing and glad to allow any customer to deposit 50c with him and take home a box of Samose with the understanding that if it does not give a marked increase in good firm flesh the money will be returned without any questions. Sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50c.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

NEW PENAL METHOD

Chicago Woman's Plan to Shield Families of Criminals.

FAVORS INDUSTRY IN PRISONS

Mrs. Mary E. Ide Would Make the Convict Earn Enough to Save Kin From the Burden of His Crime—Favors Paying For Work at the Union Wage.

The speedy disappearance of wife beaters, home deserters and tramps and the alleviation of some of the injustices of the present penal system are the objects aimed at in an idea being worked out by Mrs. Mary E. Ide, 1638 Kenmore avenue, Chicago, a member of the North End Woman's club and of the League of Cook County Clubs, who is busily engaged in developing the details of her scheme and enlisting others in its support.

Mrs. Ide has long seen a great injustice in the modern prison in that the heaviest burden entailed by the sentencing of a criminal to a term behind the bars falls often not on the culprit himself, but on his family. The man goes to jail and may or may not be put at hard labor, but his family is left out in the world and must shift for itself.

"Why, I have even heard of criminal husbands," said Mrs. Ide in explaining her plans, "who held their wives in submission by the threat that they would go to jail for a rest and leave them without any support at all."

But all this would be changed if Mrs. Ide could have her way, and jail would be far too serious a proposition and too much like prosaic, everyday working for a living to be considered for a moment by the leisurely inclined. The gist of the proposed plan is this: Let the criminal, when sent to jail, be put at his trade or labor and paid a regular union wage. Then let his board and lodging be deducted and the balance be sent to his family, so leaving the burdens of a jail sentence to fall where they are intended to fall.

To carry out the plan it would be necessary, according to the originator, to change the prisons about so as to give them less of the present day aspect of "houses of correction" and to give them more of the nature of "houses of trades." Mrs. Ide would prefer that they be made in reality colonies or virtual little towns, with all sorts of factories and industries and opportunities to put each man to work at the trade or labor for which he is most fitted. If he is not fitted for any, let him learn one and go to work.

There would be shoe factories, mattress factories, furniture shops, carpentry shops, printing offices, stonecutting sheds, brickyards, tile manufacturing plants, and the products of all would be placed on the market and no loss entailed to the state, for Mrs. Ide sees in her plan the elimination of one of the greatest objections to prison made articles.

"Pay is the keynote to my plan," said she. "If we can pay the prisoner the regular union wage, I believe that the greatest obstacle, the opposition of the trade unions, will be overcome."

Now the prison made articles are manufactured by free labor. Let the men be paid wages and their product put on the market. I think that this wage and the consequent justice to the prisoners' dependents should obviate the objections of unions, though I haven't yet consulted labor leaders.

"The expressions of opinion which I have received have all been very favorable to my idea. Superintendent Whitman of the house of correction said that it is just the thing we are coming to, and we may as well take it up now as later, and Judge Cleland said that the plan had many good ideas. I spoke to Judge Mack about it also and asked him if my plan was impracticable. He told me I was on exactly the right track and urged me to hold it to."

Mrs. Ide intends to enlist the aid of prominent judges and lawyers through expressions of opinion from each and then start the work of raising popular subscriptions through personal canvassing for funds to carry on the campaign of publicity. As the club season is over and the aid of women's organizations cannot be enlisted, Mrs. Ide intends to carry on her work privately through the summer and have the plan well developed by the time the women's clubs can take it up in the fall. She has been promised the floor at the first meeting of the League of Cook County Clubs.

"Make the criminal dread the jail sentence less and crowd the prisons? Not in the least!" said Mrs. Ide in defending her plan. "The criminal is not the man who will look on the opportunity to support his family under compulsion as an inducement to go to jail."

"I have had the idea in my mind for many years and hope to see it in practice. I believe there is a remedy for every evil if we can only find it."—Chicago Post.

At the Head.

It is stated in Mr. and Mrs. Pennell's "Life of James MacNeill Whistler" is that part which relates to his brief West Point career that the great American painter was not "soldierly in appearance, bearing or habit." Whistler's horsemanship is said to have been hardly better than his scholarship. According to General Webb, it was not wholly unusual for him at cavalry drill to go sliding over his horse's head. On such occasions Major Sackett, then in command, would call out:

"Mr. Whistler, aren't you a little ahead of the squad?"

According to Whistler's version to the Pennells, Major Sackett's remark was:

"Mr. Whistler, I am pleased to see you for once at the head of your class."

New Alaska-Yukon Postage Stamp.

Postmasters of the various offices throughout the United States have been notified officially from Washington that a new postage stamp of special design will be ready for issue on June 1 to commemorate the development of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific territory. This stamp will be rectangular in shape, red in color and of two cent denomination only. In the center appears a portrait of William H. Seward, who, as secretary of state, negotiated the purchase of Alaska from Russia. The new stamp will not be issued in book form.

THE PETROSINO CASE

W. H. Bishop Tells Why the Detective's Slayers Will Escape.

LIPS OF SICILIANS SEALED.

"Betray No One, Not Even a Murderer," a Creed of the Race, Says American Consul at Palermo—How Petrosino Scorned Protection—A Change in Passports Suggested.

William H. Bishop, American consul at Palermo, Sicily, who was threatened with death just after the assassination of Lieutenant Joseph Petrosino in the streets of Palermo, recently arrived in New York city. He is not telling his abiding place, for it seems desirable on more than one account that members of the Black Hand in New York should not learn of his whereabouts.

Mr. Bishop has received two letters warning him that unless he ceases lending a hand in the search for Lieutenant Petrosino's assassins and in the deportation of several of the notorious Italian blackmailers now in the United States he will meet the fate which befell Commissioner Bingham's special agent. From the time the first warning letter was received until he was safely on his way to the United States Mr. Bishop was under the constant surveillance of two Italian detectives. They even went on board the Cunard liner Carpathia with the consul and his wife and remained until the vessel had cleared Palermo.

Mr. Bishop says that, although the danger of assassination by Black Hand agents in the United States is not so great as in Sicily, he is not taking any chances. He expects to remain two months in the United States. During that time he will lay before the state department at Washington a plan which he believes will lead to the material lessening of the number of Italian criminals who land in New York and other Atlantic ports and also will provide a means of deporting many already in the United States who have been troubling the police of New York and other cities in the last few years. Mr. Bishop will meet Police Commissioner Bingham in the near future to place certain information in his hands concerning the Petrosino case.

Mr. Bishop's recent experiences in Palermo have been so far the most trying period of his life. His coming to the United States had nothing to do directly with the Petrosino case, this being his annual leave of absence. While in America he has some important matters to communicate.

Mr. Bishop said frankly that he did not believe that the murderers of Lieutenant Petrosino would ever be caught. The Sicilian police have been hampered from the start, he says, by the fact that nearly every Sicilian is averse to telling anything he knows to the police.

"There is a dogma which has come down from the middle ages and is still in full force in Sicily which makes it well nigh impossible for the police to catch some criminals," said Mr. Bishop. "This is the belief that it is unmanly to tell anything about a fellow countryman which could get him into trouble. It is called 'omertà' in the Sicilian tongue, which means manliness. They believe it is dishonorable to inform on any one even in a case of murder."

Mr. Bishop said that Petrosino did not seem to realize the danger of his mission. He even went about the streets unarmed and had no revolver with him when he was murdered. The dispatches from Palermo at the time said that Petrosino did have a revolver and fired back at his assassins.

"I frequently spoke to Lieutenant Petrosino about his danger," said Mr. Bishop, "but he made light of it. I asked him if the Black Hand agents in New York had never tried to kill him. He said he had been threatened many times, but was never afraid."

"All the stories about his wearing a coat of mail were untrue. When he was shot his revolver was in his room at the hotel. When he first came to Palermo the authorities asked him if he didn't want a guard to accompany him. They told him it was dangerous to go about on such a mission alone, but he refused any escort."

"One day he was going into a very dangerous locality infested with men known to be desperate. He asked me what he had better do. I told him to take along some of the carabinieri, but he finally decided to go alone. That was just before he was shot down."

"Lieutenant Petrosino did not even disguise himself. True, he registered under an assumed name at the hotel and let his beard grow, but it changed him very little. He was of a distinctive type, easily recognized. I told him one day that he looked like Napoleon, and he said 'Yes' and that in New York they called him a second McKinley, as he looked not unlike the former president."

"The people of Palermo were inclined to look upon Lieutenant Petrosino as an intruder, and after his murder many would say that he got what he deserved. I only tell this to show what a difficult proposition the authorities have been up against in trying to locate his murderers."

Mr. Bishop said that the immigration laws had not been lived up to in Italy for many years. He said that under the present passport system there is no means of identifying the holder of a passport other than the general description given.

"Every passport should have the photograph of the man for whom it is issued," he said. "The present system is a farce."

MONUMENT TO ADAM.

Builder Says First Man Should Have Homage Paid to Other Pioneers.

Believing that it is better late than never, John P. Brady of Baltimore, contractor and builder, has had erected at his country house, Hickory Grounds, near Gardenville, Md., a monument to the memory of Adam, the first man.

After spending much thought upon designs for the monument Mr. Brady came to the conclusion that nothing could be more fitting than a plain square shaft of concrete surmounted by a sundial.

Without saying that women will not be admitted, Mr. Brady wishes the occasion of the dedication to be distinctly masculine. He has no intention at any time to erect a memorial to Eve.

The monument bears two opposite panels, which read:

THIS, THE FIRST SHAFT IN AMERICA, IS DEDICATED TO ADAM, THE FIRST MAN.

In the circular form surrounding the sundial is the Latin quotation: "Sic transit gloria mundi" (So passes the glory of the world).

"After all, there is no serious reason why there should not have been thousands of memorials to Adam," said Mr. Brady the other day. "Some of us may blame him for the misfortunes which we get in this world, but few of us wish that we had not been brought here. It was kind of Adam to come first. He paved the way and should receive the homage which we pay to pioneers in all fields. There seems to be glory enough to go around for every one who ever did anything, and many monuments and other tributes have honored men who never did anything."

"If it is so easy to get one's name carved in stone I thought it was high time Adam had something to show for having been here. Adam had a pretty hard time of it. He was something of a hero, after all. Just think of it, to be here on this big earth, not a soul until Eve came, and then!"

FAMOUS BRITISH STATESMAN.

Incidents in the Career of Joseph E. Chamberlain, Great Unionist Leader.

Joseph E. Chamberlain was until his retirement a great Unionist leader in British politics. He early became known for his radical opinions and was in turn councillor and mayor of Birmingham and on the return of the Liberals in 1886 was made president of the board of trade, with a seat in the cabinet.

Mr. Chamberlain achieved great prominence by his schemes for the regeneration of the masses, which included the "restitution" of land and the "ransom" of property. He succeeded in passing the bankruptcy bill; he advocated the readjustment of taxation, free schools and creation of allotments by compulsory purchase.

He resigned from the office of president of the government board in March, 1886, one month after he had taken the office, as outcome of his opposition to the Gladstone party and particularly the Gladstone home rule policy for Ireland.

Lord Salisbury, as prime minister, sent him to the United States as commissioner in the Canadian fisheries disputes, and later he was made colonial minister. His chief ambition during the period he held this office was to bind closer, if possible, the colonies to England. He succeeded in many instances.

In 1888 he married Mary Endicott, daughter of William G. Endicott, secretary of war in Cleveland's first term. He resigned as secretary of state for the colonies in 1903 because of his pro-tariff views.

HOLD TIME IS INOPORTUNE

French Labor Unions Do Not Want to Strike.

EFFORTS WITHOUT RESULTS

Attempts of Revolutionary Labor Leaders to Bring About a General Strike of Affiliated Unions in Support of the Postal Employees Have Received Little Encouragement. Some Union Men Ordered Out.

Paris, May 19.—The efforts of the revolutionary labor leaders to bring about a general strike of affiliated unions in support of the postal employees has not had any widespread results. The federal committee of the confederation of labor held a meeting to consider a proposition of the militant leaders to fix a day for a general strike, and this excited furious discussion. The reformists who are opposed to the revolutionary members contended that the time was not ripe for the proletariat to attempt a concerted movement. As a consequence no date was fixed and only the building trades, carpenters and diggers unions were ordered to strike today.

M. Pataud, leader of the electricians, declared that he will call out his men very soon, when least expected, but it is considered doubtful if many will obey the orders of the leaders, although demonstrations on the part of the unemployed members of the various unions are possible. An appeal to the workers of France to come to the aid of their comrades in the postal service by a general strike was issued by the federal committee of the postal employees and placarded throughout Paris. Something of a sensation was caused by the discovery at the central post-office of a mysterious package, resembling an infernal machine. It was carried to the municipal laboratory and opened under water. The package contained only the remains of a decayed lobster.

WOULD END LAKE STRIKE

Arbitration Boards of Six States in Conference.

Detroit, May 19.—That there has been no hint or thought of compelling anyone to come before the interstate board of arbitration and testify was the idea emphasized by John Lundigran of New York, speaking for the boards of arbitration of six states that convened here in an effort to find some means of settling the present strike on the vessels of the Great Lakes.

"We are here to extend our good offices in any way that the parties at interest wish us to extend them," said Mr. Lundigran. He added that the announcement that President Livingston of the Lake Carriers would not appear at the conference here had reached the board only indirectly through the press.

Rev. Frederick Klump of the Michigan board of arbitration said the Michigan board had authority to subpoena witnesses, but stated that no subpoenas had been issued.

The conference took a recess after hearing a statement from National President W. F. Yates of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association. Later, Victor Olander of the Lake Seamen's union appeared before the conference, accompanied by Secretary Secord of the Marine Cooks' union and William Tyndall, lake business agent for the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association.

Elephants' Memories.

Elephants' memories are the most lasting of any animal's. One trainer had an elephant in his care six weeks and taught it many tricks. It was then shipped away to a menagerie, where it led a humdrum life for many months. Its old trainer coming in unexpectedly, however, it obeyed his voice and went through its tricks perfectly.

To Awaken the Liver

Costed tongue, aching head, biliousness, indigestion, constipation alternating with looseness of the bowels, feelings of depression and ill-temper.

These arise from sluggish torpid action of the liver. Relief comes after the use of one of Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills and cure with a few weeks' use of this great regulator of the liver.

With the liver right there is usually no disturbance of the digestive system or bowels. Therefore get at the cause of trouble by awakening the liver to action by use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills.

Mr. Z. M. Taylor, Port Chester, Md. writes: "Having used Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills for a number of years I consider them the best liver regulator I ever used. I cheerfully recommend them to anyone afflicted with headache and other symptoms of a disordered liver."

100 Years Hence

No More Drudgery—Just Live To Enjoy Yourselves.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox believes in a hundred years all drudgery will be done by machinery. We will fly through the air on the wings of the wind and have time to see and enjoy all the wonders of the world and perhaps of the heavens which are now sealed books to the majority because of the eternal grind of every day life.

Look back 100 years and the changes made seem just as great. What we wear, how we traveled, how we communicate, what we eat, sensible clothes, vehicles speedy and comfortable, wireless telegraphs, telephones, fast trains and mail steamers, and healthful foods. Today instead of loading our stomachs with heavy, greasy breakfasts, that dull the brain and retard our morning's work, we eat delicious E-C Corn Flakes or Egg-O-See Wheat Flakes, made by the famous Egg-O-See process that insures perfect digestion, high nutrition and greater strength.

Always ready to serve, good for babes, best for invalids—the sensible breakfast for the business man or the busy, energetic housewife. Remember it's the Egg-O-See process that makes the flakes so crisp and delicious.

TECHNICALITIES OF TARIFF

Almost Involved Manufacturers in a Wrangle.

New York, May 19.—Tariff technicalities almost involved the National Association of Manufacturers in a wrangle after the presentation of the report of the committee on tariff and reciprocity by its chairman, H. E. Miles of Racine, Wis. Discussion followed, during which E. H. Dean of Indianapolis declared that "it is most unfortunate that the question of tariff revision should be enforced on the association." He said that he objected to a general lowering of duties and did not look with favor on the creation of a permanent tariff commission. Such a body he said, would only prolong national anxiety and draw "fat salaries."

The report was finally adopted with the recommendation that the association go on record as favoring tariff adjustment, but not necessarily tariff reduction.

Severe Storm in the South.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 19.—Northern Texas and Southern Oklahoma were swept by a severe wind and rain storm that did much damage to crops and houses. Octavius Dodge of Bonham was killed by lightning.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and rid you of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, I uniformly cure all curable cases of this heinous, most dreaded disease. These small granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy. I freely add sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes slowly pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend
